To whom it may concern:

It is with pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation for Kim King. Kim and I have worked together at Victor School for eight years. In my 35 years in education, I have rarely seen a teacher who is so passionate about her job in educating young minds.

She has done an excellent job with our 6th graders. Many of her lessons are project-oriented. She presents lessons then has students do additional research. Some of her projects have included producing games, videos, poetry scrapbooks, travel brochures, etc. She has worked, via the Internet, with teachers and classes in other districts around the US to encourage her students to do more critical thinking. This year her Communication Arts class has added a new dimension. She is having the students read a total of 40 books of various genres, use journals and create projects. As the school librarian, I have seen a significant increase in their reading and reading levels. Kim, herself, is an avid reader and models this for her students.

I have also worked with Kim for the past five years in IEFA. She is our school coordinator and last year won the 2012 Advocacy Award for Excellence in IEFA. We have attended workshops together as well as collaborated to develop a comprehensive Native American section in the school library. She is very enthusiastic about the Native American curriculum and has presented numerous opportunities for the staff and students to become involved in it.

Also through grants that Kim has written, teachers have been able to take several field trips to various Montana reservations. Her goal is to visit all seven Montana reservations. I have gone on some of these trips. It is a wonderful opportunity to learn more about Montana Native Americans and to become closer as a staff.

In my opinion, Kim is one of our most innovative and caring teachers here at Victor School. She would be a strong asset for any school district in which she is employed. I highly recommend her for a position in your school district.

Sincerely,

Vicki Lyngstad, Victor School Librarian
